HART CROWSER NAMES NEW CEO

Seattle, WA (April 20, 2007)—Hart Crowser has named Michael Bailey, P.E., as its new CEO. Bailey is a Principal Engineer who has been with the firm for more than 26 years. His focus will be on continued client satisfaction, firm growth, employee recruitment, and marketing-related efforts. His experience as project manager of environmental and geotechnical projects gives him a solid understanding of the architectural/engineering industry. John Celms, the outgoing CEO, will remain on the firm's Board of Directors.

Portland
