HART CROWSER EARNS SUSTAINABILITY AT WORK GOLD CERTIFICATION

(Dec 6, 2019) Hart Crowser's Portland office was awarded the City of Portland's Gold certification (its highest certification) under the Sustainability at Work program. This three-year certification covers the areas of reducing, reusing, and recycling; employee engagement; water; transportation; energy; and community engagement. The company serves as a Green Street Steward and has adopted a bioswale in the neighborhood. Hart Crowser staff also serve in community leadership roles related to sustainability and resilience.

Hart Crowser is an employee-owned engineering, science, and consulting firm with nine offices in Oregon, Washington, Hawaii, and Guam. The firm specializes in geotechnical engineering, environmental science and engineering, stormwater services, and resilience engineering.
